CNetX Pocket SlideShow supports Pocket PC 2002
CNetX announces revamped applications for Pocket PC 2002

Bologna, Italy, October 4, 2001 – CNetX has announced the latest release of Pocket SlideShow to take full advantage of new features of the Microsoft Windows-Powered Pocket PC 2002 Software.

Pocket SlideShow is a powerful PowerPoint® presentation viewer for handheld devices. Thanks to Pocket SlideShow users can bring their favourite Microsoft® PowerPoint® presentations right in their pocket, and enjoy full-screen slide shows, with optimised display and animations.

"We are excited that CNetX is taking advantage of the Pocket PC 2002's enterprise functionality and multimedia capabilities to produce CNetX Pocket SlideShow. This product will greatly enhance the end user experience while enabling mobile workers to deliver full professional presentations from a Pocket PC 2002", said Adam Anger, Group Product Manager, Microsoft EMEA Mobility Group.

Pocket SlideShow already includes many powerful features to browse, rearrange or even merge presentations directly on a Pocket PC.

The latest version, specifically designed with the Pocket PC 2002 in mind, includes enhanced user interface elements, new multimedia animations, slide editing features, and full support for output on external video cards.

More information on Pocket SlideShow, including a full list of features, documentation and screenshots can be found at the CNetX website:
